Dear colleagues,

The IUPESM World Congress on Medical Physics and Biomedical Engineering 2022 will be held from 12-17 June 2022 in Sands Expo® and Convention Centre, Marina Bay Sands. This will be the first time the World Congress will be held in South East Asia.

Biomedical Engineering Society (Singapore) and the Society of Medical Physicists (Singapore) are proud to be co-organising this event – one of the largest gatherings of medical physicists and biomedical engineers in the world.

This triennial event is the world's leading forum for presenting the scientific results and major innovations in health-related technologies to a global audience for the medical physic and biomedical engineering fraternity. It brings together people from basic research, R&D industry and medical applications, incorporating key aspects such as information and communication technologies, micro- and nano-systems, optics, tissue engineering and biotechnology. The World Congress is dedicated to supporting and promoting an intense inter- and multidisciplinary knowledge exchange among professionals in the areas that will be the major driving force for future innovations in medical technologies and medicine.

We seek your support and participation to showcase your technologies and solutions to a global audience at the World Congress on Medical Physics and Biomedical Engineering 2022.

Looking forward to welcome you to the IUPESM World Congress and for our overseas colleagues, we look forward to welcoming you to Singapore!

International Union for Physical and Engineering Sciences in Medicine (IUPESM)

The IUPESM represents the combined efforts of more than 40,000 medical physicists and biomedical engineers working on the physical and engineering science of medicine. Its principle objective is to contribute to the advancement of physical and engineering sciences in medicine for the benefit and wellbeing of humanity. To achieve its purpose, IUPESM engages in several activities. It organizes and coordinates the triennial World Congress for Medical Physics and Biomedical Engineering as well as organizing and/or coordinating international meetings or conferences for the IUPESM constituent organizations. Further, it establishes committees, commissions, working groups and other bodies for purposes within its mandate. Two important task groups are IUPESM's Health Technology Task Group and its Women in Medical Physics and Biomedical Engineering Task Group. It is also involved in publishing scientific journals (notably its Health and Technology Journal), newsletters, books and electronic documents to enhance progress. It is also committed to disseminating, promoting and/or developing standards of practice in the fields of medical physics and biomedical engineering to enhance the quality of health care worldwide. IUPESM also represents the interests of its members in the International Council for Science and similarly collaborates with other international scientific, professional and medical organizations with common interests.

International Organization for Medical Physics (IOMP)

The International Organization for Medical Physics (IOMP), established in 1963, is the primary professional organization for medical physics. IOMP represents 86 National Members Organizations and 6 Regional Federations worldwide. IOMP is a Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) for the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) and the World Health Organization (WHO). IOMP is charged with a mission to advance medical physics practice worldwide by disseminating scientific and technical information, fostering the educational and professional development of medical physics and promoting the highest quality medical services for patients. IOMP publishes the web-based Newsletter Medical Physics World and the web-based Journal Medical Physics International. Additionally, IOMP sponsors most of the medical physics journals worldwide and organizes various educational and professional events worldwide, aiming to boost the global development of the profession. IOMP is one of the founding bodies of the International Union for Physical and Engineering Sciences in Medicine (IUPESM) and co-organizes the tri-annual World Congress of Medical Physics and Biomedical Engineering, as well as the International Conference on Medical Physics.

The statutes, bylaws, administrative structure, activities, awards, publications and other information about IOMP can be taken from its web site at: www.iomp.org

International Federation for Medical and Biological Engineering

The International Federation for Medical and Biological Engineering (IFMBE) established in 1959 is primarily a federation of national and transnational societies. These professional organizations represent interests in medical and biological engineering. The IFMBE is also a Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) for the United Nations and the World Health Organization (WHO), where we are uniquely positioned to influence the delivery of health care to the world through Biomedical and Clinical Engineering. The IFMBE's objectives are scientific and technological as well as educational and literary. Within the field of medical, biological and clinical engineering IFMBE's aims are to encourage research and application of knowledge, and to disseminate information and promote collaboration. The ways in which we disseminate information include: organizing World Congresses and Regional Conferences, publishing our flagship journal Medical & Biological Engineering & Computing (MBEC), our web-based newsletter – IFMBE News, our Congress and Conference Proceedings, and books. The ways in which we promote collaborations is through networking programs, workshops and partnerships with other professional groups, e.g., Engineering World Health.

Biomedical Engineering Society (Singapore)

The Biomedical Engineering Society (Singapore) had its humble beginning in 1991, when a group of doctors and engineers who had been working together on biomedical engineering research projects decided to form a society to promote the field of Biomedical Engineering in Singapore.

The Founding President was Prof Kamal Bose an Orthopaedic Surgeon with a passion for interdisciplinary collaboration. He steered the Society during its early years and set the sight for academic excellence in biomedical engineering. He left a lasting legacy of successful conferences on biomedical engineering organised by the Society. Prof Chew Yong Tian succeeded Prof Bose as the second President of BES. Prof Chew, a Mechanical Engineer led the Society to greater heights. The conferences organised by the Society achieved international status. In view of BES' academic strength and its association to the various tertiary institutions, BES set up a Student Chapter in 2009. The Student Chapter organises the BES' Scientific Meetings with participation of students from Junior Colleges, Polytechnics and Universities. BES launched the Industry Chapter on the 12th November 2011 as part of its 20th Anniversary Celebration.

Apart from creating these two synergistic platforms to address human capital development for the biomedical industry locally and regionally, BES is also well connected around the world. BES is affiliated to the International Federation of Medical and Biological Engineering (IFMBE) since 1994. It allows the Society to plug into 65 sister societies around the world, boasting a total membership of 120,000 biomedical engineers. For more information on the Society, please visit <http://www.bes.org.sg/>.

Society of Medical Physicists (Singapore)

Society of Medical Physicists (Singapore)

The objectives of the Society as stated in the Society Constitution are:

1. To foster a closer working relationship among those working in the various fields of medical physics
2. To create public awareness of the medical physics profession in Singapore and to project and maintain the image of medical physics professionals
3. To represent and promote the interest and views of members in the local medical physics profession in international organizations
4. To promote research, training and education in medical physics.

Membership is open to professionals primarily engaged in the application of physics in medicine, biology, radiation protection and other related areas. Educational qualification of members should be at least a basic degree in physical or biological or engineering.

The Society has been a member of International Organisation for Medical Physics (IOMP) since 2000. The Society is affiliated to the South East Asian Federation of Medical Physics (SEAFOMP) and Asia-Oceania Federation of Organisations for Medical Physics (AFOMP) and is also one of its founding members.

(3) Allocation of space/booth

(i) This application does not give the Exhibitor a right to choose or reject the space/booth allocated by the Organiser. (ii) Space/booth will be allocated at the Organiser's full discretion. In special cases the Organiser may decide not to accept an application, to allocate less space/booth than has been applied for, to alter allocated space/booth or to withdraw an allocation without the Exhibitor being entitled to claim compensation for damage incurred. (iii) The Organiser's decision on the allocation of the space/booth will be final and binding on the Exhibitor. (iv) The full contract price is payable even if the Exhibitor eventually does not utilise the whole space/booth. (v) If no space/booth is available for the Exhibitor (without any default on its part) then the sole obligation of the Organiser is to refund to the Exhibitor such amount of the money received by the Organiser from the Exhibitor and apart from the aforesaid refund, the Organiser shall have no liability whatsoever. (vi) If the Exhibitor does not fulfil any of its obligations set out in this Agreement, the Organiser will be entitled not to proceed with the allocation of space/booth, or to withdraw an existing allocation of space/booth or not to make space/booth available, without prejudice to the Organiser's claim for full payment of the amounts due.

(4) Payment

The payment for space/booth rental or support package shall be settled in two (2) instalments as follows: a) Together with this application form, 60% of the Grand Total Cost must be submitted within one (1) month from the submission date to make reservation for the space/booth or support package made on or before 21 Dec 2021. b) The balance 40% must be submitted within one (1) month of the final invoice which will be issued by the Organiser before the opening of the Event. The total amount will be invoiced and payment shall be made within one month from submission date by Exhibitors who are reserving their space/booth or support package after 21 Dec 2021.

(ii) No application can be cancelled or altered unilaterally by the Exhibitor. The Organiser may comply with a request to cancel the application subject to the condition that the Exhibitor pays a compensation for cancellation. The amount of compensation will depend on the time of cancellation and will be calculated at a percentage of the total space/booth rental or support package payable in accordance with the following schedule:

a) On or before 21 Sep 2021	10%
b) Between 21 Sep to 21 Nov 2021 (dates inclusive)	50%
